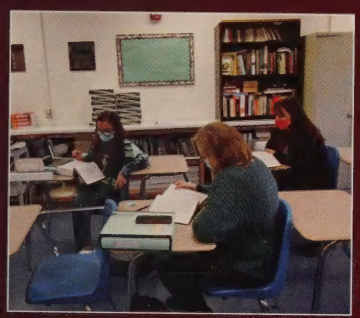
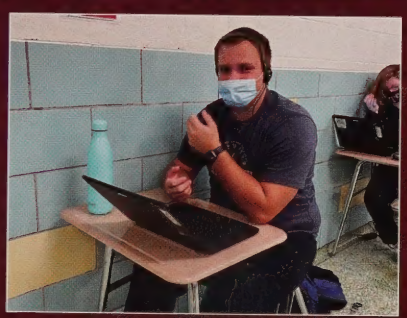
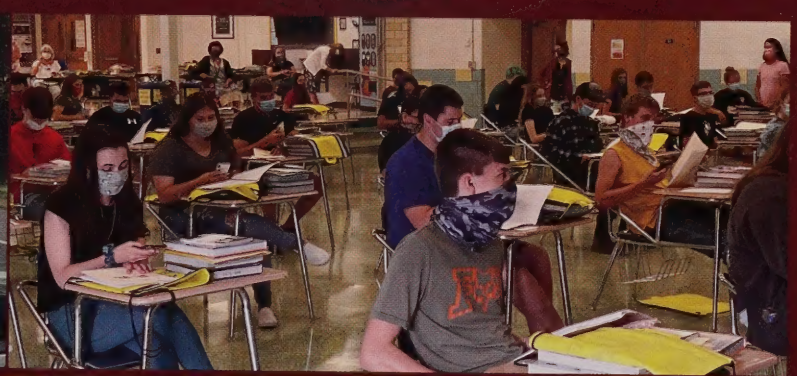
tis the season







Learning had a uniquely different look this year, from masks and socially distant seating, to orientation day filled with new rules and virtual learning information. In these stressful times, it is important to get outside and enjoy some fall weather.

September

Signs of Fall

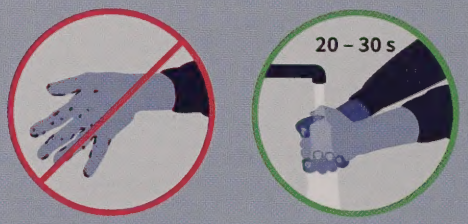
Despite the strange beginning to the 2020/2021 school year, the show must go on! Teachers worked to keep students engaged as best they could. This picture (right) was taken during Ms. Virts's Journalism class, as students had the challenge to capture a piece of fall from a unique angle or perspective.

Eight Do's and Don'ts During the COVID-19 Pandemic

Keep a distance of at least 1.5 m between yourself and others.

Don't shake hands. Greet others with a wave, a nod or a bow.

Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue or your elbow when you cough or sneeze.



Wash your hands frequently with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.

Avoid unneccessary social contact. Stay at home.

Don't buy more than you need.

Offer your help to others.

If you develop flu-like symptoms, get in touch with your doctor by phone before going to his or her office.

When staying at home, try to keep calm. Be supportive and kind.

Stay Smart, Stay Safe

In an effort to stay safe from the dangers that COVID-19 posed, posters on how to maintain a safe lifestyle could be found all around our community. This includes the halls and restrooms of Northern.

Learning behind the mask

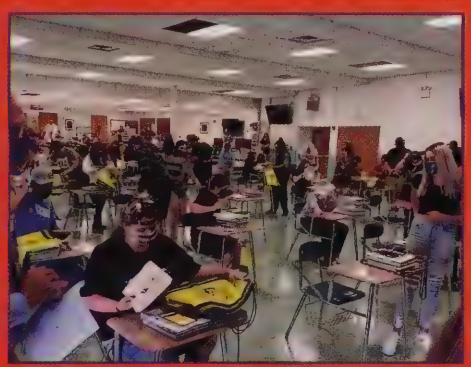
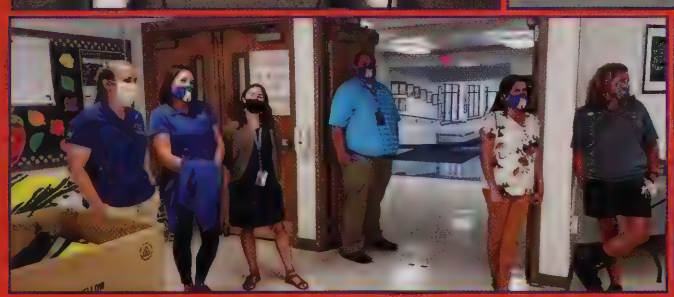
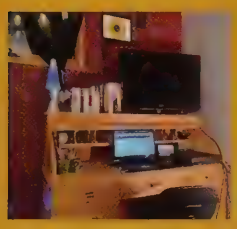
Orientation days were important for all grades this year as we began the year like never before. Students came in, socially distanced, to pick up textbooks, class materials and electronics. This was an opportunity to see friends that had been absent in our lives since last March! Staff stood by to lend support and offer a friendly smile behind their masks. The school year began fully online with a slow transition to some in person learning.

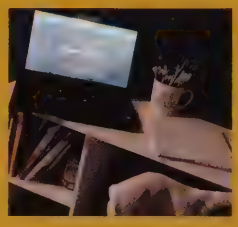


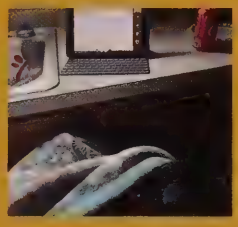


Back to School

"but not really"







New Classrooms

Classrooms looked quite different at the beginning of this school year. Instead of the usual desks and chairs, students were given the option to do school from the comfort of their own homes. (Above are three different NHS home work spaces.)

Unmasking the school year

1. Mrs. Meekins and Mrs. Yost wait for orientation to begin.

2. Despite the fact most of the classes were virtual, textbooks were still a must have.

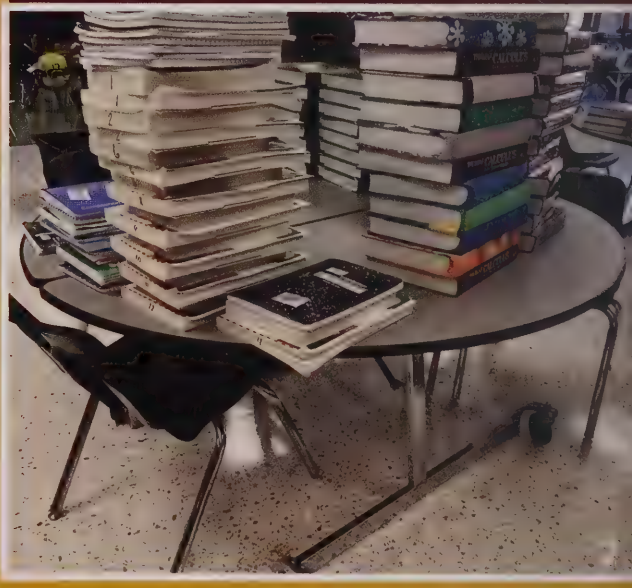
Here we go again

New year, new challenges.

On September 8th, the summer ended and the 20-21 school year began. With the Covid-19 pandemic keeping everyone restricted, going back to school was quite the hoop to jump through. But not to fear, Schoology is here! With the help of Google Meets and Schoology, students were able to attend classes virtually. It was a challenge at first, but over time we adapted.



Q&A

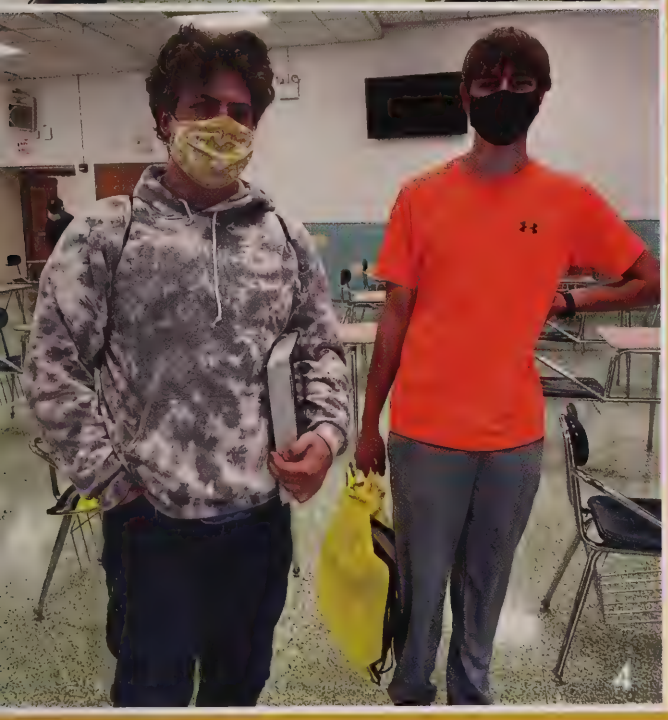
Tanner Garlitz, Freshman

Q: Do you think virtual learning has made the transfer to High School easier or harder.

A: Easier because I don't have to walk around the school.

Q: Do you prefer virtual learning?

A: Yes, because you're already home and can get lunch when you want.



Looking on the Bright Side

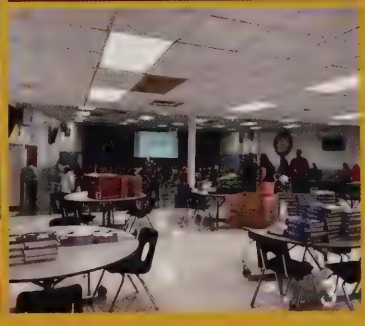
With all the craziness happening in the world, it's often a challenge to look for the bright side. One thing students didn't have to worry about this school year was back to school shopping, something parents were quite happy about. Along with that, students also didn't need to worry about carrying around those heavy books.

Orientation

1. Junior students at their orientation.

2. Mr. Paxton and Ms. Cortez hard at work making sure their students have the resources needed to succeed.

3. The NHS staff had all the necessary materials ready so that each student had the right resources to begin their year.



Jack Bradley, Senior

Q: What is it like being in the school during the pandemic?

A: Being back to school during the pandemic is hectic to say the least.

Q: Is it easy to abide by the social distancing guidelines in the classroom?

A: It's not a walk in the park, however it is necessary to keep everyone safe.

Spring Sports in the Fall:

Team behind the masks

Ethan Sebold, 10th grade, JV baseball

Do you feel that this short practice season was helpful or worth it? Why?

"Yes because we needed to start getting better now rather than waiting till the actual season."

What was your favorite part about getting this time with your team?

"Having fun and since we were out of school for so long it felt good being with friends."

How were the practices different from a regular season? How did Covid affect it?

"It sucked because we had to stay spread out with less physical interaction and had to wear masks."

-Interview by Kacey Savage

"The field has turned out to look awesome! Being an athlete here at NHS from 1980-84 and coaching for over 30 years, I never dreamed we would actually get a turf field. It has come true and we are extremely happy to get to play on it. It will benefit our athletes tremendously! No more poor field conditions on the wet muddy nights."

Coach Carr said Spring sports along with PE classes will be able to take advantage of the field. The process did take longer than expected due to Covid, but was well worth the wait.

covid vacation

COVID 19 not only impacted our lives at home, but it changed many plans we had to venture out of our houses and on vacation during the summer of 2020. We polled the NHS student body on their vacation experiences during the 2020 summer. Out of the 62 students that participated-46% of students said they did go on vacation in 2020.

61% of students said they did not go on vacation in 2020.

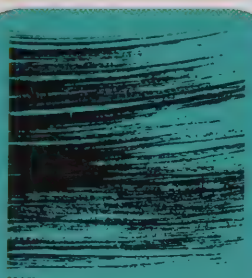
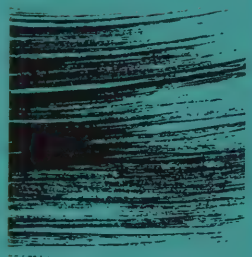
COVID-19 Update: The Foster Care System and Addiction

The COVID-19 pandemic has affected all no matter the circumstance, attacking one by one, stripping away: jobs, loved ones, and good health, causing divides between families, most importantly affecting the foster care system and addiction. According to a local Social Worker specializing in Child Welfare, there has been an increase in overdoses, along with an increase of SEN (Substance Abuse Newborns.)

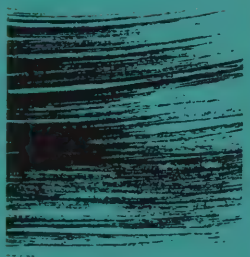
WHY HAS COVID-19 AFFECTED THE FOSTER CARE SYSTEM & ADDICTION?



According to the Capital News Service overdose deaths in Maryland doubled in the first six months of 2020. This trend has continued in the fall.



Difficulties came during the pandemic as Child Protective Services had to continue home visits and investigating cases while following CDC guidelines of masking and social distancing.



Providing necessary services to protect children and provide treatment options for those with substance abuse problems became a new challenge with quarantines and social distancing.

Interview with a Local Social Worker

By Briley Fazenbaker

Q: You have been working with D.H.S for quite some time, have you always been prepared for a crisis like this?

A: Within the 14 years I have worked for D.H.S we have never experienced anything like the COVID pandemic. We were not prepared completely for this crisis but the technology we use within the field allowed us to accommodate tele-working better. Staff at first struggled with isolating at home and with clients virtually while ensuring child's safety and needs were met.

Q: Has there been more drug related issues in the area, since COVID?

A: Yes. Overdoes and concerns with child safety within these environments.

How many kids are in foster care? 400,000

How many kids have been put into foster care since May of 2020? 37,000

Music With Evan

I sat down to interview Evan Beachy Via Snapchat... to talk about his amazing music career.

Do you play more than one instrument?

"Yes. My main instrument would definitely be trombone, its what I'm going to college for. But I also play the euphonium/baritone, the trumpet, tuba, piano, and the hand bells/hand chimes.

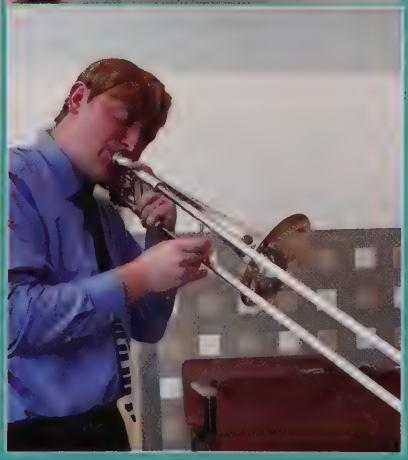
What got you into music?

"My parents are both musicians. They started me on piano when I was five years old. After that I became interested in singing, playing hand bells, and then the trombone. From there I basically stuck with trombone and here we are today.

What is your favorite song to play?

"That's a very difficult question. It depends on the setting. If I'm home by myself and I want to play something that will amuse me, I'll probably go to the piano and just improvise some random stuff. But in person, its a whole different ballgame. I think the best feeling I've ever had performing anything was when I was at junior all state band. I was 8th chair trombone my freshman year of high school and we were playing "Mambo" from the hit musical West Side Story."

Senior Spotlight



25 NHS students play an instrument!

20 NHS students play more than one instrument!

69 NHS students do not play an instrument

Evan says playing music is "A feeling of pure joy."

Of the 114 students that responded to our poll, most do not play an instrument. By what Evan has explained about playing music, it is something that makes others happy. And more people should try it out!

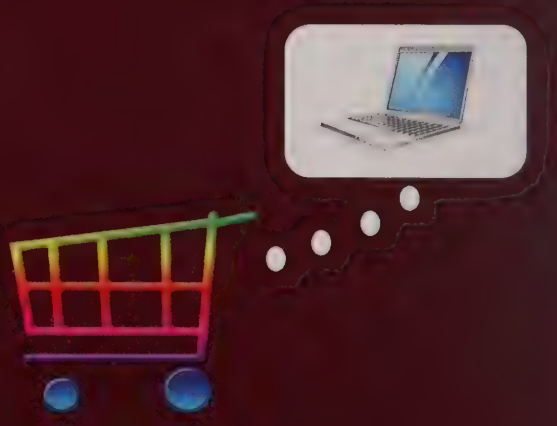
Fall Fashion

How Covid-19 has impacted sales

Covid-19 has altered the way people are shopping. Online purchases skyrocketed in September due to people not wanting to leave their house during the pandemic.



Covid-19 Fashion

What's everyone wearing during Covid-19?

Covid has effected us in many ways- schools shutting down, social distancing, family members being sick, and even how we dress. Being home all the time and not going anywhere has definitely impacted what we wear. Many have been dressing more comfortable in sweatpants, leggings, sweatshirts, and clothes we wish we could wear everyday in a non Covid-19 world.

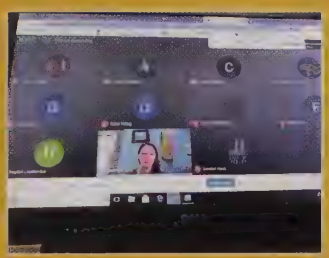
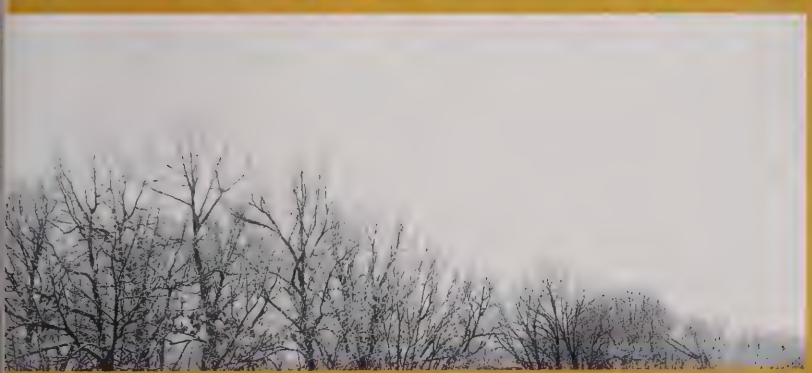
November

What a day
As the day wound down to an end, the sorrowful feeling of blues set in as this was the last day of in-person learning for students in November.

defining moments

November during the 2020-21 school year was unexpected. Within the pictures displayed are small stories of joy and sadness shared between not only the staff and students of Northern High School, but the community of Garrett County. From being in school to being shut down, and the first snowfall of the season, shares the chaos of the whole 2020 year.





Pictured above are pictures of the first snowfall of the year. It also marks the virtual learning perspective of students as in-person learning is switched back to virtual learning, and staff meet to prepare for the virtual return. The virtual holiday play was in rehearsals despite shutdowns.

Big Source of Stress

As if 2020 wasn't crazy enough, it was also an election year. With many hot topics like abortion, climate change, human rights and more being brought to the table, this quickly became one of the most important elections in U.S. history. Some Americans were unhappy with President Trump's first term, putting his re-election into question. The result was a week long wait full of stress as Americans slowly watched the electoral college votes go up. After waiting what felt like eternity, Pennsylvania, Arizona, Georgia and other swing states finally got called, resulting in a win for Joe Biden and Kamala Harris. Not only was the election stressful, it was also record breaking. Biden received 79,887,566 votes, the most of any president in U.S. history.

"It was short but a lot of fun." - Jake Rush(12)

"It was rough considering it was my senior year and not being able to play the full season. But we were lucky to get a few games in." -London Broadwater(12)

memorable moments

The year of 2020 may have made this football season short, but the Northern football players sure made the best out of it. Great wins and great sportsmanship. Covid did not stop these boys from having an amazing season!

PLAYING SPORTS masked

Most people did not think cross country would happen this year. Ella Ashby(12) was "thankful to have the little time that everyone got to run. While things were still a little off with wearing masks and keeping distance from each other, it was so nice to be back with the team." While only having 3 meets, they took the 1st place title each time! Everyone wishes it could've been a regular season, but still had a blast with their coaches and teammates! "It was short and sweet, but we ran as a team and only became closer as friends. Other schools can best believe that we'll be ready to run once Covid ends," as said by Liam Dolchan(10).

Can't keep calm when football is on

Coach Knows Best

From talking to Phillip Carr, this is what he had to say about the football season of 2020... "Well, because of Covid we definitely had an interrupted and shortened season. It was a little crazy to start because originally we were not starting fall sports until February. So when the decision was made we were starting football we had just over two weeks to get ready for the season. Our guys did a great job of preparing themselves and were able to perform at a high level. We started sloppy at Allegheny but had a nice bounce back game against Southern at home on the new turf. I was really glad that the group of seniors got the opportunity to play on the new turf field. And to beat Southern on the new field made it even better! It was definitely disappointing when we got the news that all sports were suspended for the remainder of the season. On a positive note the Seniors got to play two games, where as the kids last Spring got nothing."

Shooting For The Stars

This year will definitely be a year to remember. Even having to social distance from each other, new friendships were still made. Practicing hard everyday and having fun with one another was what this year was all about. While only being able to play a couple games, these soccer teams still had the best time together. Games were cut short and it was an emotional night when the players had to say goodbye to each other. No matter what they had a great soccer season!

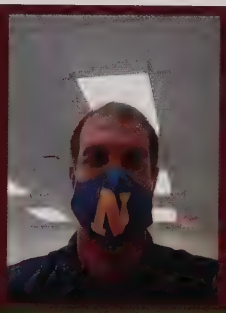
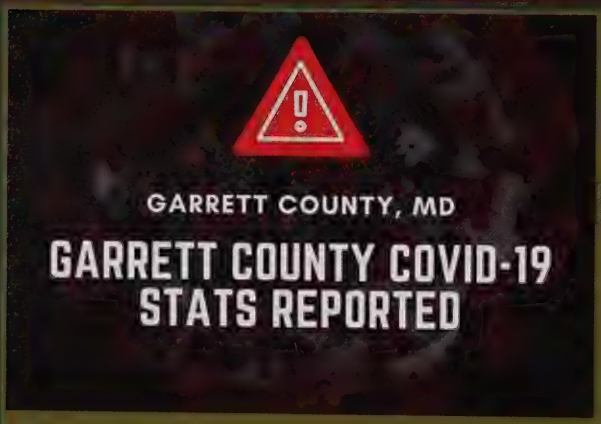
COVID-19 UPDATE:
Injurious November

A war without defense. As the month of December approached, COVID cases in November have progressively gotten worse. Garrett County Public Schools closed for the upcoming weeks due to an increase in cases. Both Allegany and Garrett Counties entered the red zone. Neighboring town Cumberland, MD is recognized in the New York Times for one of the worst metro cities in the United States of increasing cases. First responders and health-care workers are impatiently waiting for the Pfizer Bio-Tech Coronavirus Vaccine, anxiously looking for a light at the end of the tunnel.



NHS staff took mask mandates very seriously throughout the school year. Showing off their NHS masks are Col. Riley, Ms. Love, Mr. Beachy and Ms. Mills.



Increase of COVID Cases

Garrett County, MD

Stripped of Power: Many in the community feel powerless as Garrett County residents brace for an increase of COVID cases across the county. Small business owners are devising plans for protecting the safety of their employees. On November 1st there was a total of 167 positive cases in the county, however, on November 30th there was a total of 778 cases county wide and 5 reported deaths. Positivity rates have increased astronomically across the county, keeping people inside. and some businesses closed.

7 - 26% of COVID infections across the country are in health care workers.

A Constant Struggle: The month of November was a month of terror for health-care workers. They felt as if they were forced to fight in a war without weapons.

Interview with a Health Care Worker

Labor and Delivery Nurse in PA

1. How has COVID-19 caused you to think differently about your job as a health care worker?

COVID-19 has definitely had an impact on all aspects of health care. As a nurse working in Maternity, we still have a lot of uncertainty. That has been the most challenging part, all the unknowns. We constantly question so many things that we have been doing for years. It has been said that there is no emergency in a pandemic, meaning that we as health care workers have to protect ourselves first. We need to put on the proper PPE before we run into a room to help someone. But when you've been trained to respond immediately to specific dangers, it's hard to hit the pause button to put on a gown and N95. We are definitely more aware of protecting ourselves, but it's still a work in progress.

2. What has COVID-19 taught you?

COVID-19 has taught me that we take a lot of things for granted. Not just in our personal lives, but in the medical field as well. We can't use nitrous oxide as a pain reliever for labor patients because it is considered aerosolization. We can't allow our labor patients to have more than one support person in labor. And we certainly can't be wasteful with our PPE because it might be the last of it.

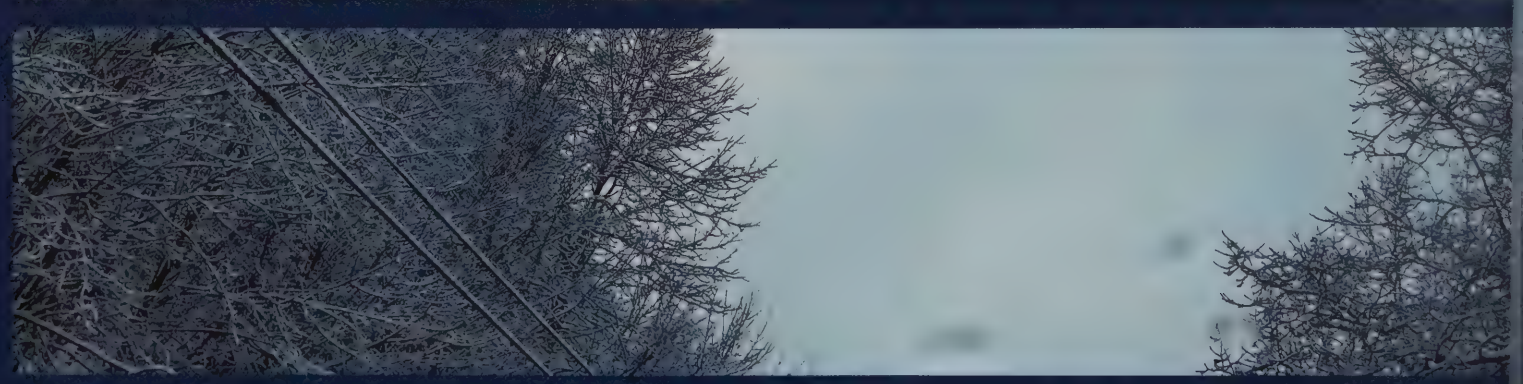
Critical Care RN, Baltimore, MD

COVID-19 has brought acute attention to the fact that there is a great deal of public distrust in regards to health and science misinformation, and even leadership. As a health care worker it is more important now than ever to have a strong foundation of health science and research, and to be able to help clarify and teach evidence based practice. COVID-19 has also reminded me how we each have a professional responsibility to continue to educate ourselves using reputable medical research databases, and to draw upon unbiased analysis of the literature.

On a daily basis COVID-19 has affected almost every aspect of my job. Depending on the situation we wear varying degrees of cumbersome personal protective equipment (PPE), are constantly checking ourselves to see if we are 'donning' (putting on PPE), and 'doffing' (taking off PPE) in the correct order as to not cross contaminate, and hoping we do not accidentally bring anything that may have been contaminated home to our loved ones. In patient rooms, barriers of plastic have replaced curtains, and patient visitation is highly restricted - which increases anxiety for both patients and their loved ones. Testing, procedures, transporting patients through the hospital, and even discharging patients home are all often delayed. Unfortunately, many patients with COVID-19 require admission to the Intensive Care Unit (ICU). Even if hospitals can add more beds and are lucky enough to obtain more supplies, there are only so many ICU level trained nurses and respiratory therapists, which adds significant strain to an often already stressed staff.

December

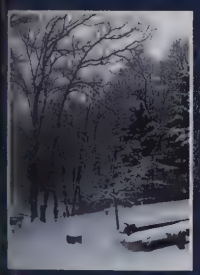
What a month
December 2020 brought the biggest snow storm in years. Accumulating between twelve to eighteen inches! And just a week before Christmas!

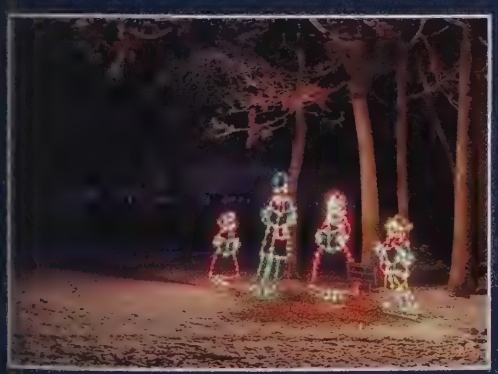


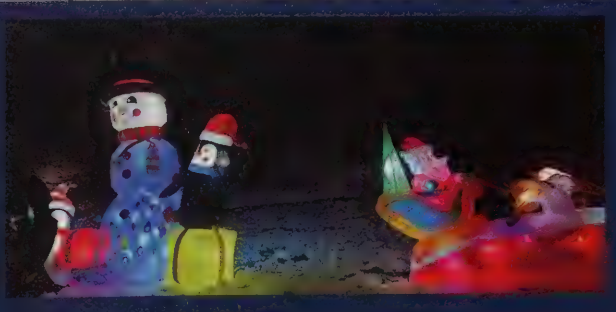
'Tis the Season

While online school was still in process, joy and happiness started to take over, heading into the holiday season! Students and staff fought to stay focused online as the holiday spirit filled our homes, even at a distance. Besides trees and snowmen, dogs also got decked out for the holidays.

Below is a Snowy Day by Kacey Savage, the Virts Christmas tree, Pet Santa, Snowman by Joe Burris, and a Pet Elf.







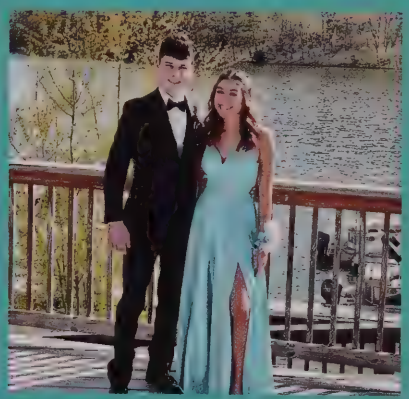
Favorites! The holiday season is everyone's favorite time of year. Pictured to the left are festive lights to celebrate this season with everyone from the safety of your own car. This display, put on by local community groups in Oakland, was a drive-thru event in Broad Ford Park.

Junior Spotlight

Sara Huelskamp

An aspiring lawyer and politician, Sara Huelskamp (11) has worked hard at her academics for all of her life to soon win many honors and scholarships (most notably on her big win for her project in the Pittsburgh Regional Science Fair). "It's not really something I think about, so I'm kind of surprised. It never really mattered much to me until high school," she stated regarding her scholarship win. What's very impressive about this bright student is that she is able to effectively balance various extracurricular activities, like dance, robotics, and mock trial, with her academics. She has even said that these activities have built her skills and determination to perform better, both as a student and a person. In June Sara was chosen to be the Queen of the 2021 Autumn Glory Parade! The sky is the limit for this Husky!

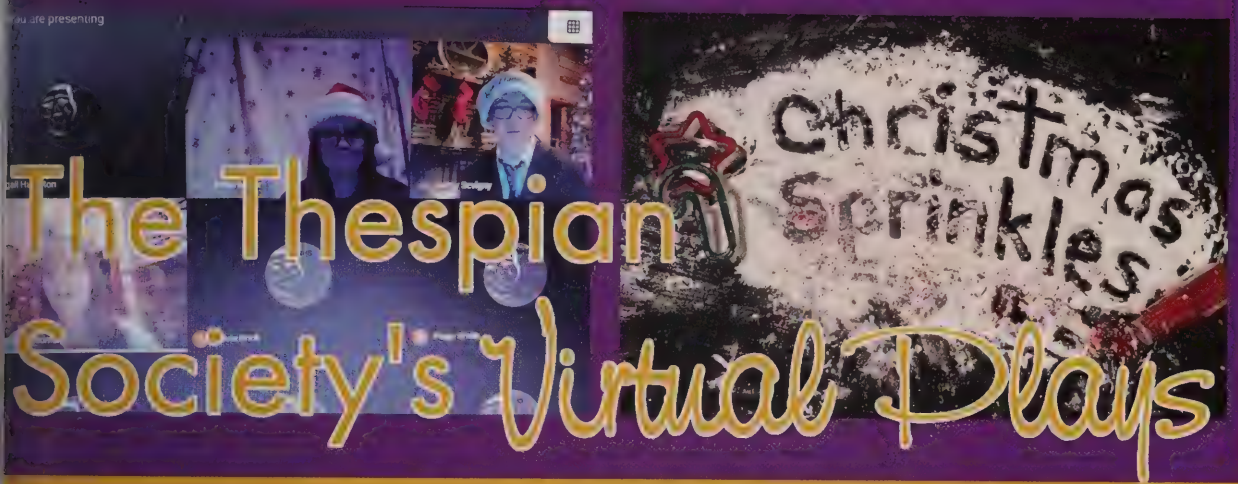
Words With Sara & Jackie



Jaclyn Jacobs

Jackie can be described with one word- driven! She has big plans for the future as she looks towards her senior year and continuing to be involved in Student Council. Next year Jackie will serve as the Vice President of Student Council. When asked what she is passionate about, Jackie stated, "I am really passionate about my local community and making a positive impact on it."

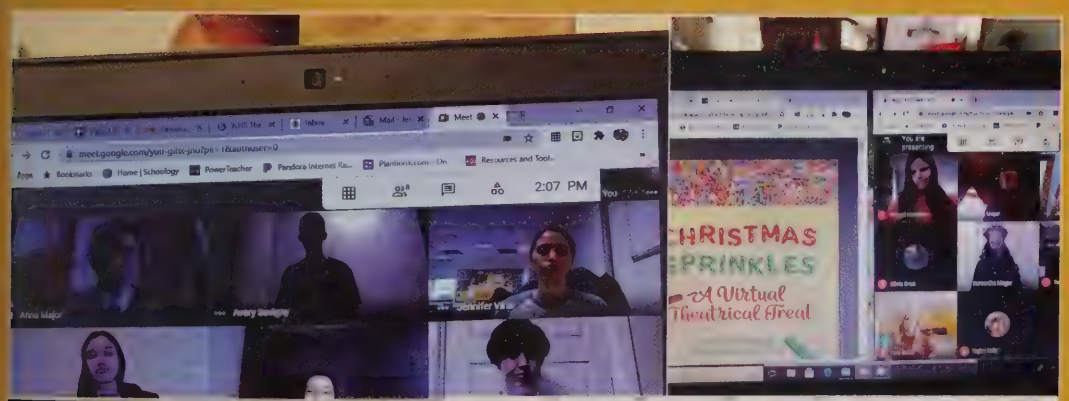
Jackie will further her positive impact as she plans to major in accounting in college and then go on to pursue a graduate degree in business law. She stated, "I want to start my own accounting or law firm." And we have no doubt that she will be successful in this endeavor. Jackie was also a member of the NHS cross country team and said, "It taught me the value of teamwork and being a part of something bigger than yourself. I made memories that I will truly never forget."



The Thespian Society's Virtual Plays

The Show Must Go On!

With the disaster filled year of 2020 making it impossible to perform a live production, the NHS Thespian Society quickly went to work trying to find a solution. What they discovered were virtual plays. With the help of Google Meet, and Facebook Live they were able to perform two shows from the comfort of their couches. On October 30th, the first play "A Murder Double Feature" was performed. It was followed by the joyful "Christmas Sprinkles" on December 11th.



a cast member Q&A

What challenge of performing virtually surprised you the most?

"I'd say the most surprising challenge was how difficult it was to stay focused. I kept getting distracted by things in my house."
-Taylor Kelly, Grade 12

What do you miss most about in-person performances?

"Everything! But mainly when we are all around each other just having fun or hyping each other up before the show and just enjoying ourselves."
-Paige Smith, Grade 11

DISNEY

Big movie trend: Streaming on Disney Plus. All movies and TV shows by Disney all on one platform.

Gaming phenomenon: Among Us. Crew-mates, impostors, spaceships, tasks, and teamwork come together in this smash hit of a murder mystery mobile game that many students enjoy playing with each other.

The Trendy TV Hot Hits:
The people voted, and the polls show it. Which hit original TV shows on Netflix were their favorites of the year?

As you can see, The Umbrella Academy took the title as the favorite show of the year of the 139 students who voted, especially with the release of the second season back in late July. This is followed by Cobra Kai and Tiger King also claiming places on the podium.

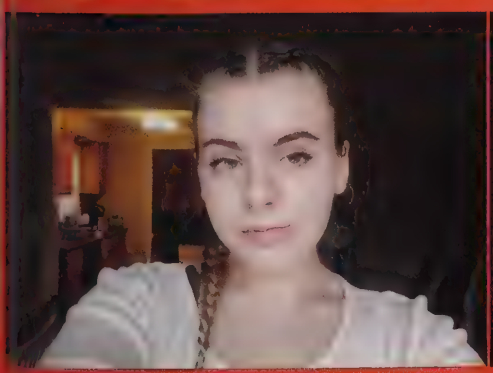
Comic Craze: One of Lindsey Skidmore's (12) favorite reads of the year was The True Lives of the Fabulous Killjoys comic book by Gerard Way, which she received as a Christmas gift. "I might as well bring out my inner geek for the time being," she says.

2020- A Year of Trends!

With all the craziness that 2020 brought came a lot of trends. Since everybody is staying home all the time, we thought we'd share some of the highlights in popular trends of the year, including movies, music, tech, hobbies, and more! Online schooling has brought on new challenges for everyone, but we all need an escape into fiction and fun, especially now.

Top trending. During 2020 Tik Tok has become a creative way for people to come together in entertainment.

Who says masks can't be stylish? Bailey Keller(12) proves that wearing a mask doesn't have to be a fashion disaster.



Pictured above Kylie Jamison (12) enjoys watching Netflix during the pandemic. Offering much variety for everyone many students enjoy the many shows and movies it provides.

Online school helpers. Doing school online becomes fun when doing it with a furry friend. Emily Sines (12) made sure her furry friends attended class regularly.

Spending time with pets became the best trend in 2020. Being at home during these times has its benefits. Many students use this time to bond with their pets.

COVID 19 Update- December

Covid facts during December

On December 1st there were 2,769 cases in our county. By December 16th the cases went down slighly to 2,763. Christmas (December 25th) brought cases down to 2,292. However, that was short lived due to family gatherings for the holiday. This lead to a spike in cases, with the numbers going back up to 2,953 on December 31st: the highest number yet. On December 14th the first COVID vaccine was given in the US. We are fighting COVID -19 off and getting our lives back step by step. No one let COVID stop them from having a very merry and jolly Christmas!

January - a month of change

This month was life changing for many people. The vaccine came out and was ready to go! Tons of happy faces all around the state. Teachers and students were happy at the thought of going back to school. Many teachers got their first round of the vaccine. Teachers were nervous to get it but happy to know this was the first step to get things back to normal.

A teacher's point of view on the vaccine:

Ms. Deem
Did you have any reactions to the vaccine? Had little to no reaction the first time around. Second time around had a minor headache, swelling and a rash around the injection site.
Do you think it will help avoid contracting the virus? Not sure but says she believes the doctors.

Ms. Shirko
Did you get the vaccine? No I decided to hold off the vaccine at this time due to recently having a baby.

Moments from the insurrection

Rioters climb the walls of the Capital Building.

Trump supporters wave flags outside the Capital in support of the former President.

A rioter sits in House Speaker Nancy Peloski's office, resting his foot on her desk.

Democracy At Play

The inciting incident for the riot was the fact that the Senate was officiating the winner of the Presidential race. The riot caused the necessary and urgent evacuation of U.S Senators from the Capitol building. Despite all the chaos, the Senate was still able to get back into the building to finalize the voting process to confirm Joe Biden as the winner of the 2020 Presidential race. Due to the riot, the process was not finished till early the next morning.

Living through history

Attack on THE U.S. CAPITAL

On Jan 6th, 2021 a large group of insurrectionists stormed the United States Capitol Building in support of former President Donald Trump, after he failed to win his re-election. The ensuing riot resulted in the death of 5 people, including a Capitol Police Officer.

First-hand witness

A Personal Account: Evan Sechler (12)

On January 6th, Evan and his mother went to D.C. to listen to President Donald Trump give a speech. "Just seemed like a very pro-America crowd, very supportive, didn't seem combative". After waiting for an hour, the president finally came out to give his speech. "Kind of a boring speech from the President. Then people began to climb the walls, something was not right". They heard sirens go off during the speech and heard people around them say the Capitol was breached.

Their biggest take away? "Stay away from violence!"

Semester One

A Semester Like No Other

As the fall semester came to a close teachers tried to commemorate this unprecedented time in our school's history with some class pictures. This was such a unique semester with some students and teachers never actually meeting each other in person. On the last day students were encouraged to turn those cameras on and smile big. Both students and teachers learned so much in the virtual learning process, but by working together, we made it through!

February

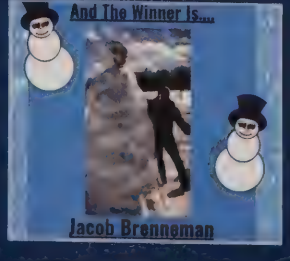
Above: Elementary students showing off their amazing snowman and penguin artwork on the igloo floor. These students participated in virtual learning at NHS before high school students were brought back into the building.

In February students had to make the difficult decision whether or not to return to in person learning. Here is a freshmen perspective from Madison Humphrey(9):
My deciding factors for coming back to school in March were "will it be better for my social health and my grades?" The answer I came to was I should enjoy my freshman year as much as possible. Madison is pictured here back in the classroom.

Keeping Spirits High
Student Council began Fun Fridays to keep student spirit high, introducing different challenges and dress up days. Here are some of the highlights.

Below: Bruno, owned by Kylee Barnes (11) having fun on one of the many snow days February storms bring.

Jacob Brenneman (10) won student council's Fun Friday with his giant snowman.

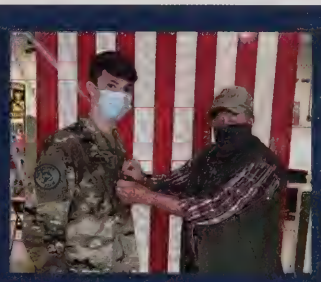


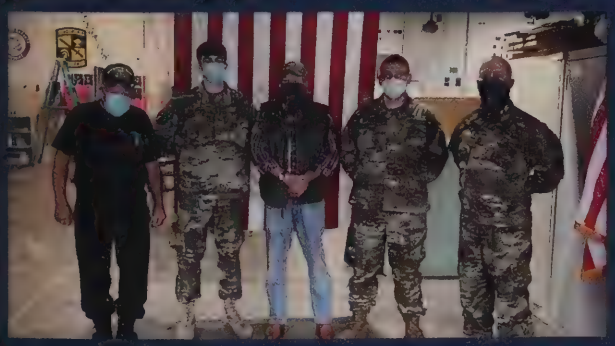
Samantha Mager(10) won student council's Valentine Spirit Week.

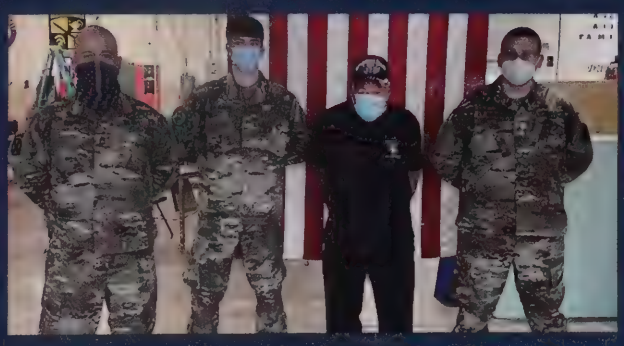
Hayden Medlin(12) won student council's Fun Friday hat day.

Staying connected

January and February brought record snow falls and a continued need to focus online in the hopes that we would soon return in person. Students stayed busy with projects like the painting below by Taylor Kelly (12). Teachers began to creep back into the halls of Northern, in preparation for a return in March. Meanwhile, some programs could not be slowed down, even by a pandemic. JROTC was able to hold a promotion ceremony for Cadet Dolchan, who earned the rank of corporal (as pictured below).







Seen here are Cadet Corporal William Dolchan(10), Cadet Private First Class Nathaniel Brenneman (9), along with veterans Bill Rice (US Navy SeaBee) and Vietnam War Veteran and a veteran that was in the 101st Airborne Division and was stationed in the states during the war. The two veteran's were there as part of a Veteran's Day ceremony.

Who said pets couldn't help with school? The two pictures above shows three tired pets after a hard day of school with their owner Emily Sines (12).

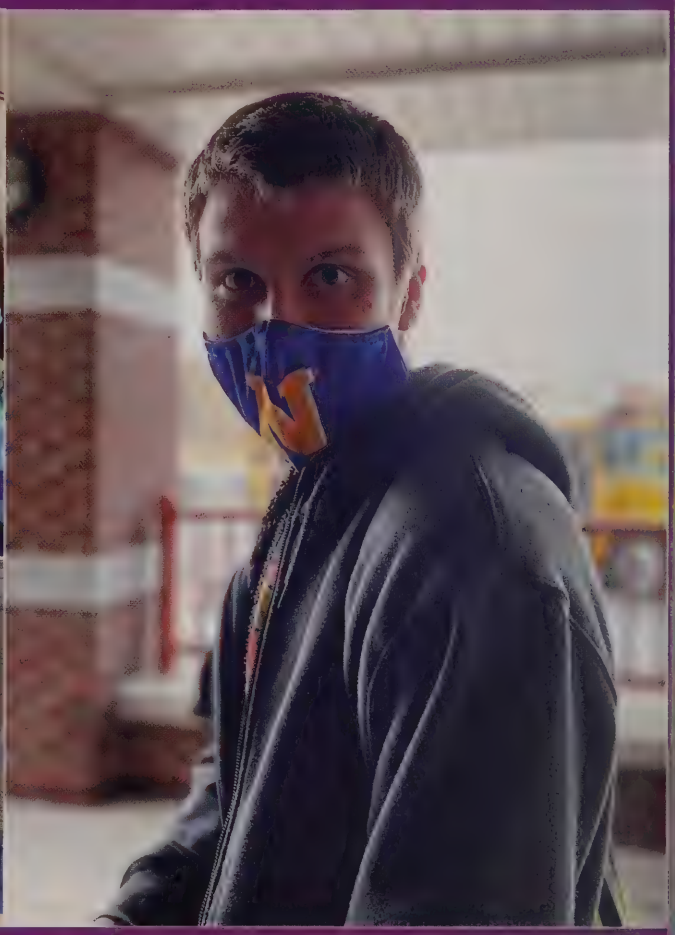
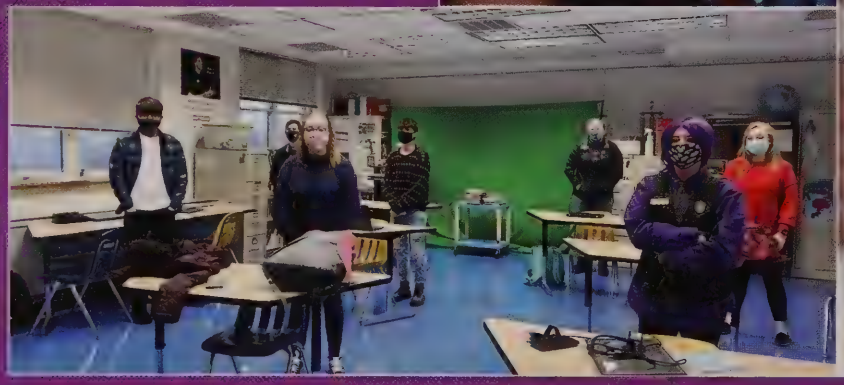
A Return to School again

Living in the moment

Just because we are back to school doesn't mean we can stop wearing masks. (top left) Katelyn Wick(11) and Mrs.Pitman had to stop and take a picture with their matching masks that Mrs.Pitman actually made!!!! (top right) Austin Fazenbaker(11) has a very fun time waiting for the bus to take him home while supporting our school with the Northern mask. When asked how his return to school was going, Austin said, "I was weird about coming back because we were use to being at home where everything was in reach."

(bottom left) Mrs.Virts class practicing social distancing so we all can be safe and still have fun while doing Theatre warm ups.

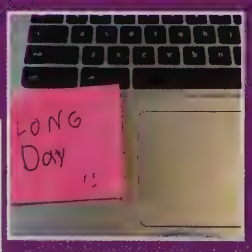


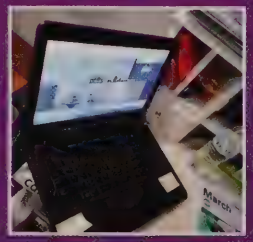


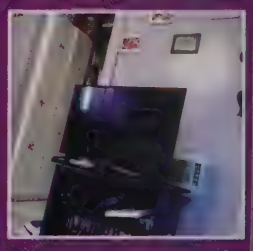
that moment

Virtual learning

With most students returning back to in person learning there are still a good amount of students staying home, being safe, and still getting the education they need. These are views from our virtual student classrooms.







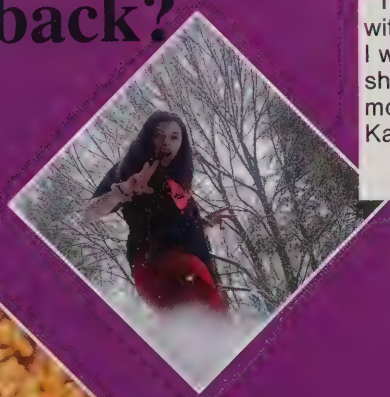
Distanced together

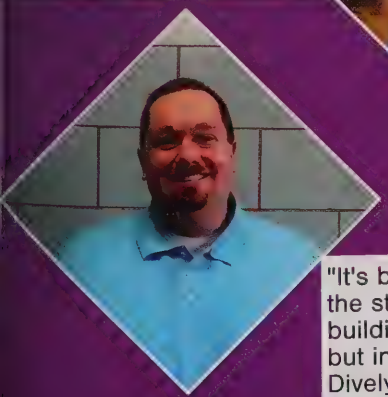
Return Ready!!! March 1st and 15th where very exciting days for both the staff and the students, as many came back together to have the first full day of in person school since last year. As students fill the halls, all the staff are excited to be able to get back to the new normal. Bus drivers start picking up students way early in the morning and have them to school by 8:25am, which we can't thank them enough for doing. Students respectfully distance in the hallways and head to class. By the end of the day buses are parked and waiting to take the excited students home.

How was your first day back?

"The first day back at school was really good. Even though it wasn't normal, it was still good though." Reagan Emory(10)

" I work so much better with in person school, but I wish the bus ride was shorter so I could have more time for myself. " Katelyn Wick (11)





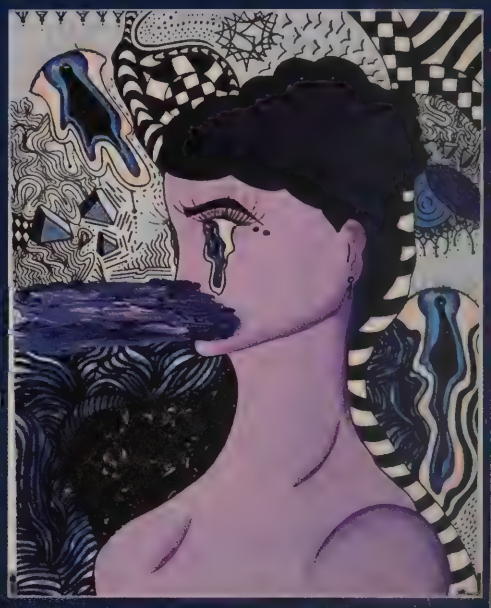
"It's been great having all the students back in the building." "It was different, but in a good way." Mr. Dively (chorus/band)

"It was good; it started a little slow but the difference between this year and the year before the pandemic is huge. So much has changed." Mykenzy Peck (12)

Arts in Abnormality

The Winning Masterpiece:

Kylie Mark's (12) artwork won first place in the high school division at the First Lady of Maryland's Virtual Art Gallery Competition this fall. Mr. Paxton found this in his classroom and submitted it for her.



A Worldly View: Bayden Copley (10) takes a look at his drawing of the Golden Gate bridge, wondering how to make it his best work.

Time Flies When You're Having Fun: Jaylyn Wilt (11) includes all the details in the outline of her clock drawing as time ticks by.

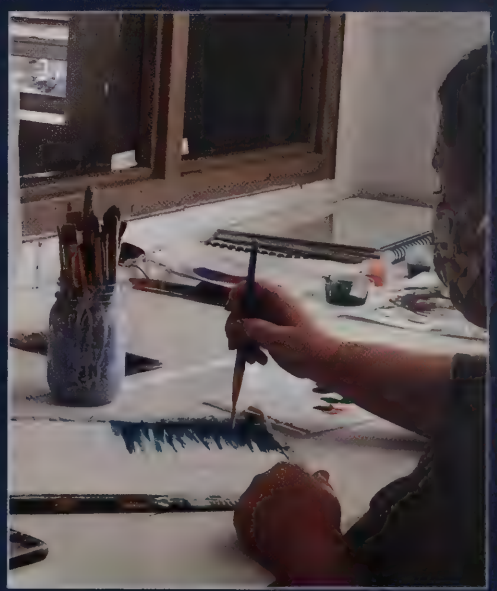
Hard at work!

1) Breanna Olinzock (11) works diligently on a beautiful sunset painting in Mr. Paxton's class.
2) Briley Fazenbaker (12) decorates her class portfolio with some abstract expressionism. "It's going to be of a woman through different emotional stages," she says of her work.



Pandemic Plays

While in quarantine, our first couple of theatrical productions went virtual. This made great opportunities for our performers to experiment with whatever props and clothing they had at home with them. Later in the year, though, our in-person return to school has allowed students to rehearse and take the stage together once again.

Christmas Cheer! The cast of the collection of virtual holiday skits Christmas Sprinkles is all smiles as they are in costume and prepare for the performance. Every actor played multiple roles.

Shrek Showcase: The cast of Shrek: The Musical rehearsed on and off the NHS stage to prepare for their tour in Grantsville and Friendsville. Leads Samantha Mager (10), Taylor Kelly (12) and Lindsey Skidmore (12) can be seen here along with the cast.

Shaking Up Success: The cast of The Complete Works of William Shakespeare: Abridged smile after a successful performance full of laughs. The play was originally scheduled to be performed outside, but due to bad weather, the Theatre II class was the only cast this year to take the NHS stage.

Words from Coach Miller on the Season:

"Our final softball record was 9-8. Our season was full of ups and downs. We started the season 5-0 and then hit a rough patch with hitting. When our bats finally started to wake up our starting pitcher quit. With 3 games left, senior Taylor Bittinger took on that role and did a great job! Over this long season, the girls did a fantastic job of working hard and finding ways to improve. Anytime a team has more wins than loses at the end, I believe is a great season!"

Words from Coach Carr on the Season:

"The team's final record 17-3. We were Region Champions and only the 2nd team in school history to reach the State semi-finals. The players did a great job dealing with the daily COVID screening, wearing masks, and the ever changing guidelines etc. Me personally, it was awesome getting the 400th coaching win!"

"We never had a school season so the only wrestling I got in was at my coach's house, in Pennsylvania where I train. I got to run and lift a lot. I could do it before school in the mornings. I didn't get to wrestle near as many matches, but Maryland did put a state tournament together, and I got to go to that and win it."

Words With Jacob

Sophomore Spotlight

Jacob Brenneman has a bright future ahead of him with the sport he loves to do - wrestling. He can't wait for his following years of high school. He wishes to proceed and see where all his training leads him.

Jacob can be seen above with Coach Kamp, a huge influence and positive role model.

Jacob also has a love of hunting. He's seen to the left with an 8-point buck from this year's deer season.

Egg Hunting on April Fool's

The Student Council held our first Virtual Easter Egg Hunt including QR codes to be scanned, with eggs hidden throughout the school color coded by grade. Ms. Meekins, one of the Student Council advisors said, "We had almost 400 scans and over 180 students participate!!!! It was a much better turn out than I anticipated!" Pictured above are a few of the winners: Lydia Nelson (9), Samantha Mager (10), Leah Crawford (10), and Caiden Shiflett (12).

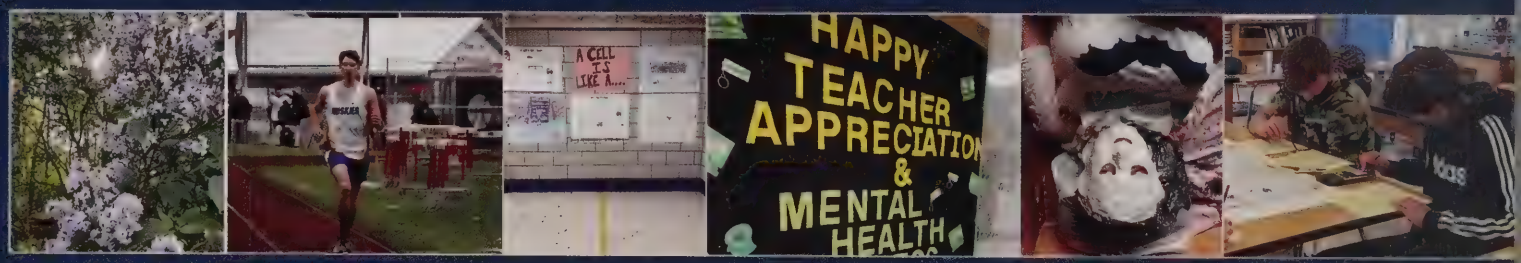
May

May brought beautiful weather, as the trees on the NHS campus were in full bloom. Students were hard at work as seen below, running the track, comparing cells, celebrating teachers, creating lasting memories like at home theatre masks, and mastering math.



Prom Perfect!

defining moments

There was much to celebrate in the month of May including the beautiful blooms of the FFA greenhouse. Ms. Yost & Ms. Trickett worked hard with their students to prepare for the annual plant sale, and the final products did not disappoint as seen below. May also brought two more Theatre productions, Shrek: the Musical and a virtual play, Dr. Evil and Pigeons with Lasers. Another important event in the school calendar was Mental Health Awareness Week which coincided with Teacher Appreciation Week. During the difficult times that everyone experienced in the current pandemic, having a handle on mental health is more important than ever before. Understanding and accepting those that struggle with mental health is an essential part of creating a positive environment for learning.

Unmasking Clubs

Covid 19 had an effect on everyone. Unfortunately, many clubs did not get to take place this year. The ones that did were done a bit differently. When polled most students admitted to not being involved in a club this year, while some found clubs outside of school to keep them involved in the community. Below is a picture of the end of the year picnic held by the NHS Thespian Society. There was no induction this year, but members were grateful to be given the chance to gather together to celebrate seniors and this year's accomplishments.

The Thespian society continues to work hard even through the challenges of the pandemic. While practicing safety the club was able to have auditions for its new project Shrek.

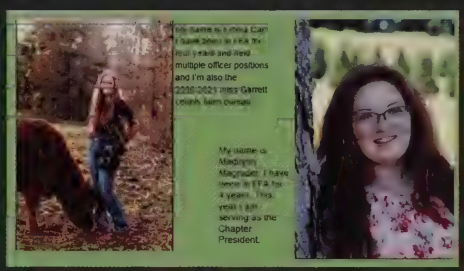
Senior Named Star Farmer

Senior Madilynn Magruder (pictured left) continued to be a dominate force in FFA and achieved the Maryland State Star Farmer Award in June, based on outstanding achievement in a production SAE (Supervised Agricultural Experience) and active participation in the FFA. Each year the State Association selects one member from the top applicants for the State FFA Degree. Madilynn's SAE is breeding and market sheep. She was recognized during the third session of the 93rd Maryland FFA State Convention in June. She also received the Maryland Sheep Production Proficiency Award. This award is based on an Entrepreneurship project in which a member owns the enterprise and includes the best management practices available to efficiently produce and market sheep. Not even a pandemic can keep a great farmer down!

This school year was different for everyone. Coach Carr, the Letterman's club advisor stated, "No Letterman's Club this year. Decided not to have it because of not being able to meet monthly and a big part of our club is fundraising, so we can give back to the community and we are not able to do that."

Due to certain regulations many clubs did not take place while the ones that did were very different.

One of the advisors for Student Council, Ms. Meekins, said "We met virtually twice a week (once a week for officers then once a week for all member meetings). Our club had to be much more creative on how to include the student body and make sure students were still engaging as a student body. Unfortunately, most of our members were not as active as they normally were. Some told us they did not feel motivated like they use to, due to their school year being virtual. We tried to hold an activity for the student body to engage in at least once a month. We also had "Fun Friday's" which would help build a sense of community."



My name is Bailey Kisler and I am the reporter for the northern Garrett FFA.
I am planning on going into nursing and furthering my education
My name is Logan Wilson and I have been in FFA for 3 years. I have had the opportunity to do many things through FFA and I am serving as the chapter secretary this year

The above tribute was created for the seniors of the NHS FFA that had worked so hard throughout their high school careers to make a positive impact on their peers. This tribute was shared with parents and students virtually during National FFA week. Despite typical club events not taking place, it was important to pay tribute to students that made a lasting impact on our school clubs and organizations.

Freshman Spotlight

Freshman Morgan Sweitzer has a bright future ahead of her as a part of the Theatre department and color guard. After participating in both, including a lead role as Pinocchio in Shrek: The Musical, all while remaining a virtual student, here is what she had to say about her freshman year.

"My freshman year was different than I expected due to constantly changing guidelines presented by the global pandemic. Although I didn't have many challenges I had trouble adapting to not having the social aspect of school as well as the hands on experience in classrooms."

When asked what she is most passionate about she said,

"I am most passionate about performing arts and science. Being a part of Theatre and color guard at NGHS have taught me life lessons such as persistence and confidence. These activities have brought me lifelong friends and memories I will never forget."

When asked about her goals for the rest of her high school career Morgan stated, "I have many future goals for my high school career including getting the lead role in a play or musical and graduating in the top 5% of the class of 2024."

It's clear that this freshman has a bright future in the arts and as a leading member of the class of 2024.

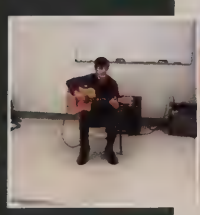
Art Spotlight

Carl and Caleb Zimmerman happen to be two of the most talented musicians in Garrett County. These twin sophomores are competitors in the National Fine Arts Festival put on by the Assembly of God Youth Ministries. They have competed at the state and national levels this year. Music is a family passion for these two, who have a very promising future as musicians. Here are their thoughts on music, playing together, and competing.

In Carl's Words:

"At age 12 after receiving a high enough score in District Fine Arts with the Assembly of God church, I was invited to compete at National Fine Arts.Where I competed in 6 different categories, and won 2nd place at Nationals doing a Zimmerman trio with my brothers Caleb and Shawn. Also that year I was in the top 5 with 3 other categories. I really enjoy playing the guitar and blessing other people with my music. I play in 2 youth worship bands and go around to other churches and play with Caleb. I enjoy playing my guitar and have composed 6 songs on my own. Every year it is fun trying to decide which songs I am going to use in Fine Arts. After choosing the song, I then arrange it the way I want to play it. We play both acoustic and electric guitar in the competitions."



In Caleb's Words:

"I started taking guitar lessons at age 7 with my brother Carl. We had watched our older brother Paul and Shawn advancing in guitar after taking lessons and we wanted to play as good as they did. They played in church in the youth and adult worship bands and we also wanted to. Carl and I get together and write songs. Carl sings while we're playing. I really enjoy going to Fine Arts and then advancing onto National Fine Arts. It is held in a different place every year in August and there are 14,000 youths competing. We were there when our brother Shawn won First place over the whole US twice in the solo guitar division. It was so exciting when they called his name. We both are striving to achieve that honor. We have this year and the next 2 years to compete. "

Jobs and Hobbies

How has covid impacted your job/hobby?

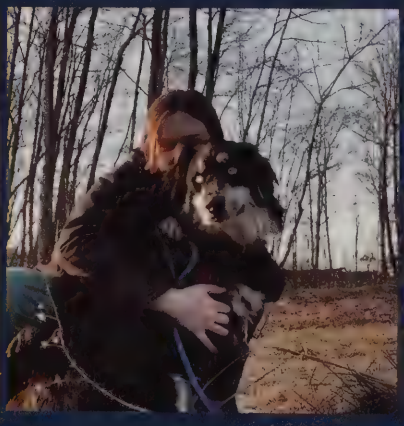
I started working when I was 10 years old. Now I'm 18 and Covid did not impact my job in any type of way. Staking dimes is my "passion". Josh Thomas(12)

Before the pandemic my only hobby was listening to music. During covid I found my true hobby was painting. The painting on the left is one I'm the most proud of at the moment. Celeste Ticona(12)

Covid got me out of school so then I could hunt everyday and do little schoolwork. Levi Kennell(12)

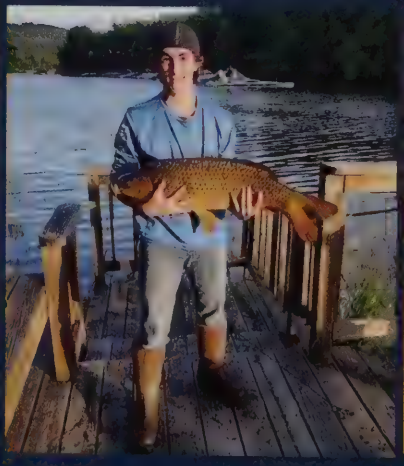
I've been fishing since I was little. The pandemic didn't really affect fishing since it was outdoors. I'm the "best fisher in the area." Austin Brown(12)

I have been competing at Mason Dixon Speedway. I have done it for over 7 years. The pandemic gave me more time so I could get better. Gracie Broadwater (12)



My job brought me so much joy, it gave me a chance to provide love for such sweet souls until someone could commit to them with a loving life that they deserve. Olivia Brick(12)

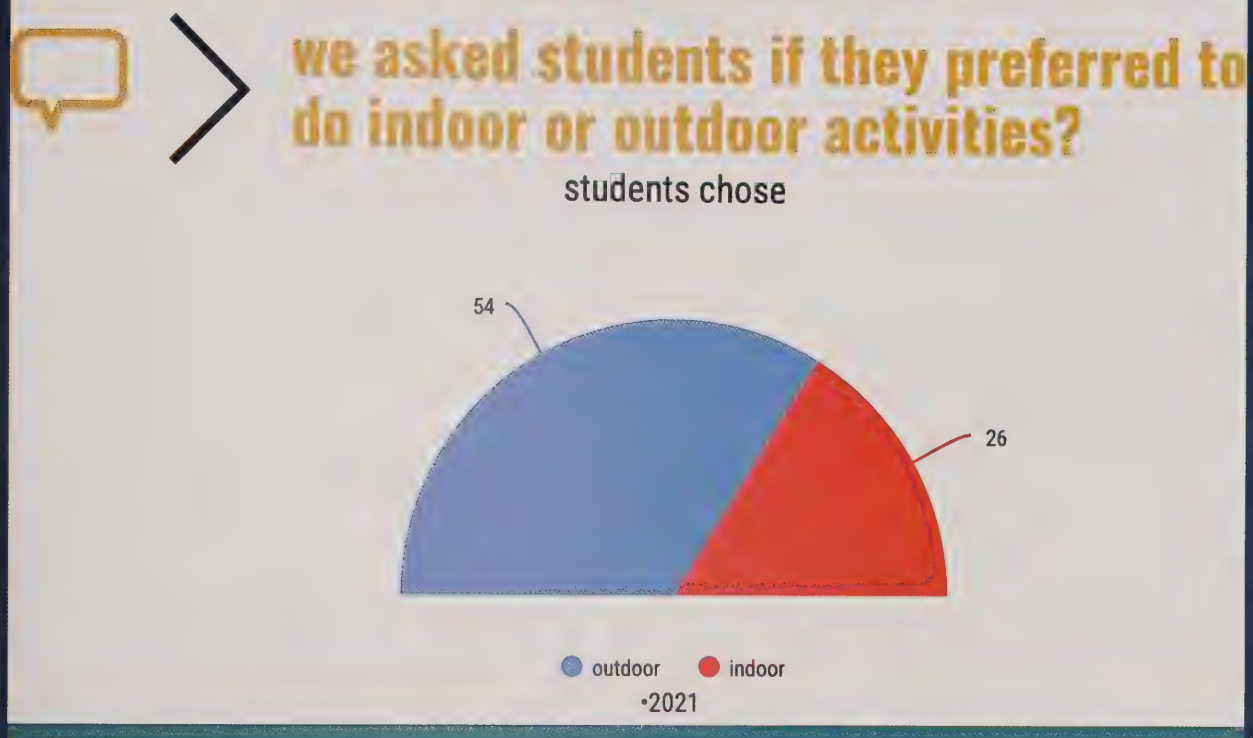
This job impacted me because it allowed me to be out and be productive and not sit at home during quarantine. It allowed me to increase my labor skills in the construction field. Shane Fink(12)



I like to go fishing at Deep Creek Lake. The fish that I'm holding is a carp fish and it weights about 17 pounds. Fishing really helped me stay sane over quarantine. Mitchell Wilburn(11)

Students View

We asked the whole school to chose if they preferred doing outdoor or indoor activities. This graph shows us that out of 460 students only 80 students responded to the poll. As you can tell 54 love outdoor activities and 25 of you love indoor.



joined the fire fighters ast year in May. I'm truly blessed to have this job. I get to help others and save lives. Sometimes I get the privilege to fix stupidity. Caleb Rowan(12)

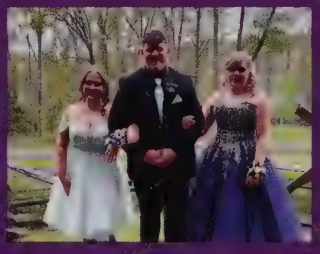
I've been competing since I was 7. The pandemic gave me more time to spend with my horses and get better at my dream career. Gracie Broadwater (12)

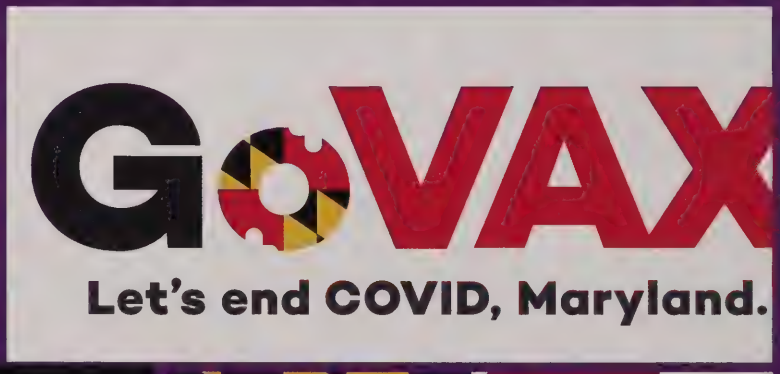
During these troubled times, the shelter has provided me with the ability to escape from the control of Covid and gave me the opportunity to be outside and do some good for the homeless pets that I tend to. Kayden Uphold (12)

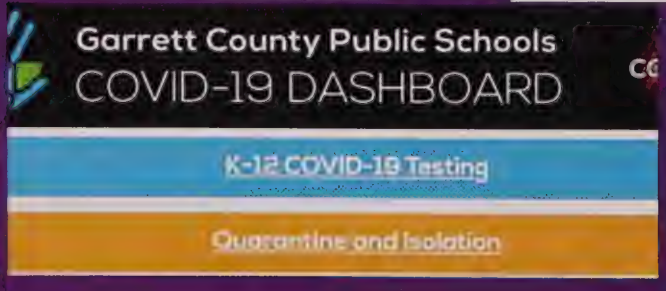
Ski racing was a great way to get out of the house and socialize with friends while being socially distant. Jackie Jacobs(11)

COVID-19 UPDATE: Final Thoughts

The month of May brought many changes on the COVID front. As the vaccine roll-out increased in speed, more and more Marylanders were getting vaccinated, including students. GCPS even held vaccine clinics for students that were 12 years and older to receive the Pfizer vaccine. As numbers continued their downward trend, this allowed for masks to be taken off at outside gatherings for school, such as prom, and eventually indoor events as well, such as graduation. Although masks were required in the school building through the end of the year, the loosening of restrictions in local businesses and important events like graduation, sporting events, plays and picnics, life is beginning to feel a lot closer to normal. The end is in sight in the fight against COVID- 19!







The numbers for the amount of cases in Garrett County and the state have gone down, with a positivity rate below 3%. Masks are now required in schools, hospitals, and public transportation. Masks continue to be recommended for those not vaccinated in public settings.

Pictured Above A night of live mask-free theatre as Shrek : The Musical was performed in Friendsville Park. Briley Fazenbaker (12), Brayden Broadwater (10), and Gracie Broadwater (12), are all smiles as they head in to prom sans masks. It was such a joy to celebrate the class of 2021 mask free, seeing all the smiling graduates.

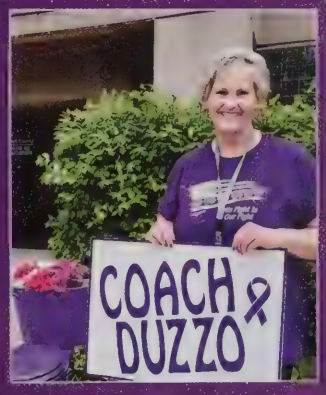
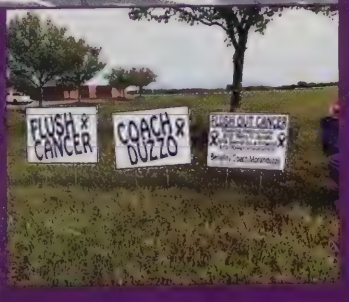
Team Duzzo

Flushing out cancer

With so many ups and downs this year, Husky Pride was still strong. And when an important coach, teacher, friend and colleague, Mr. Moranduzzo, was diagnosed with cancer, Team Duzzo came to the rescue. A fundraiser to help the Mornaduzzo family traveled through both ends of the county as a means to 'Flush out cancer'! Staff and students came together throughout the year to show their support for Coach Duzzo and all he does for our school. We remain Team Duzzo strong!





Pictured above NHS Staff and students supported Coach Duzzo by having Purple Fridays throughout the spring semester. The black shirts sported by many included the phrase "His fight is our fight". Husky nation stands united with Coach Duzzo and his fight to beat a disease that has touched too many in our community. The community continues to raise money for the fight against cancer through the Relay for Life. The 2021 Relay for Life in Garrett County was held as a drive-thru luminary service to honor survivors, caregivers, and those lost to cancer.

Making the Rounds

The Team Duzzo purple potty made its way over to some of our friends on the Southern end, including SHS wrestling coach Dave Taylor and football coach Jon Nazelrod. Mr. Nicklin showed his support when the potty was placed on the brand new Husky football field. The potty also made its way all the way to the Garrett County Board of Ed and our Superintendent, Ms. Barbara Baker.

Dressed to Impress

This year's juniors and seniors were not only able to experience a prom, but mask restrictions were relaxed just in time for students to enjoy a mask-free prom. Though some students had a mask prepared to match their outfits, it was such a joy to see smiles on the faces of each student as they entered the Red Barn in Swanton, MD.
